

Oh, Man!

By BRIGGS

(Copyright, 1919, New York Tribune Inc.)

Mayor, Arrested for Turning Hose on Reds, Will Repeat

In Reply, Rahway Socialists Assert They Will Have an Episcopal Clergyman on Soapbox Tomorrow Night

STAFF CORRESPONDENCE
RAHWAY, N. J., June 5.—A small matter like being arrested for turning the fire hose on a Socialist speaker hasn't weakened Mayor David H. Trembley in his determination to turn Rahway's streets to soap-box orators of the radical persuasion.

The Socialists declare they are going to give the Mayor a battle. Worsted in the first round last Saturday night, when they retreated under a well-directed stream from a hose in the hands of Mayor Trembley, they say they will conduct another street meeting next Saturday night, and that one of their speakers will be an Episcopal clergyman.

"Bring on Your Socialist!" "Let 'em come on!" remarked the Mayor to-day to a Tribune reporter. "I'm a damned poor starter, but I'm an excellent finisher. They'll hold no meetings here."

Mayor Trembley was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by a Socialist Justice of the peace who lives in Elizabeth. Four city firemen who participated in the hose episode were also taken into custody. Fred J. Harwood, of Newark, was the complainant. It was Harwood's attempt to deliver a Socialist speech on a Rahway street corner after a permit had been refused that occasioned the administering of the "water cure."

When Harwood got up to talk the Mayor grasped the nozzle of a fire hose and gave him the full benefit of it. The speech was not delivered and the meeting broke up. Mayor Trembley announced that the same dose was in store for any other radical agitators who might invade Rahway.

Yesterday afternoon "Gus" Theimer, a Justice of the peace in Elizabeth, came over to Rahway and convened court in the office of James B. Furber. Furber, a Socialist, was recalled from the office of City Commissioner some months ago because of his radical views, and he is reputed to have been one of the promoters of the street meeting which Mayor Trembley dispersed with the fire hose.

Justice Issues Warrants
On Harwood's complaint, Justice Theimer issued warrants for the Mayor and for Firemen Joseph Mohr, William Langton, Harry Cooper and William Cook for assault and battery and for rioting.

There is a police justice in Rahway and it is contended that a justice of the peace had no criminal jurisdiction in such a city. There are also four justices of the peace in Rahway.

The City's Jar

JUSTICE BENEDICT, in the Brooklyn Supreme Court yesterday, offered two prizes of $100 each for the settlement of the domestic difficulties of Police Detective David Daly and his wife, Regina, who live at 2112 Avenue P, Flatbush. Mrs. Daly has sued for separate maintenance of $20 a week, alleging cruelty. On account of the three children, all under six years old, the justice said the couple should try to settle out of court, and he told Mrs. Daly's counsel that he would award him a fee of $100 if he could show a stipulation of settlement. He said a similar fee would be paid to Daly's own lawyer at the same time.

GIVING the name of Thurston, an aged man appeared at Police Headquarters in Brooklyn and asked to be locked up because he could not support himself. When he was taken before a magistrate, he was recognized as Thomas Forrest, sixty-seven, once known as the best of John L. Sullivan's sparring partners.

He was sent to Hart's Island for six months.

THE 1919 treaty of Versailles may be an interesting reading, but a treaty recorded yesterday also settles a bitter contest and will prove interesting to every apartment house dweller.

The high contracting parties are Rachel and Benjamin Dworkin, landlords of the premises at 210 East 124th street, and Philip Zigmund and twenty-five other tenants. The landlords, under the terms of the treaty, or "lease" as it is quaintly termed in real estate parlance, agree to dismiss the present janitor before June 10, 1919.

UNTIL William, because of the soaring cost of ready-made liquor, opened his own private moonshine still, life went along like a song for the Hausmans. No discord ever had the same thing as Langton," said the Mayor later. "The whole proceeding was just a bluff. They wouldn't have had the nerve to send me to jail if I had refused to give bonds."

Mr. Furber's assertion that the Socialists will hold another meeting at Main and Lewis streets, the very corner where the last one was broken up, next Saturday night, and that the Reverend Albert Farr, formerly an Episcopal clergyman of Newark, now living on a farm in Whippany, N. J., will be one of the speakers, didn't faze Mayor Trembley any.

"The events of the last few days prove, I think," said the Mayor, "that I was right when I took the measures I did to quell these agitators. The United States government says that sort of thing is not to be permitted while the country is still in a nominal state of war. I am not going to be responsible for the commission of any acts of terrorism such as have been committed recently in other sections of the country."

Four Miners Crushed To Death by Ore Slide
Only Three Bodies Recovered So Far From Mass of Iron in Ringwood Fatality

PATERSON, N. J., June 5.—Four miners were crushed to death to-day when a mass of iron ore crashed down upon a chute at which they were working in the Ringwood Company mine at Ringwood, N. J., about twenty-five miles from here. The miners were in a drift about 2,000 feet from the entrance. The slide blocked the passage and only three bodies had been recovered at 8:30 to-night.

Court Order Keeps Bobby Ashe at Home Of Foster Parents

Foundling Hospital Must Show Why Injunction Should Not Hold Pending Hearing of an Appeal

marred their thirty-two years of married life. Mrs. Hausman told Magistrate Groehl in Harlem court yesterday.

William, she explained, bought his liquor when he needed it and showed no signs of intemperance until the impending dry spell drove him into making it. On Tuesday night, she charged, the perfect harmony of their life together was wrecked forever.

Her husband, she said, sampled his concoctions extensively and then hit her in the eye. For the next six months he can grieve over his hasty action in the Workhouse.

Briefs
Mrs. Rebecca Wansker, of Coney Island, convicted of manslaughter in the killing of Samuel Silverberg, a tenant, was sentenced to from ten to twenty years in Auburn prison.

A bullet apparently intended for another man in a window at 102 East Twelfth Street struck Antonio Mazza, a Garibaldi veteran, killing him almost instantly. The slayer escaped.

John Best, a sergeant of the 2d Recruit Company at Fort Slocum, was rescued from the East River off Forty-seventh Street by Patrolman Patrick Moloney. He said he had been in the water four hours, clinging to a pier.

The New York Bible Society, in larger quarters at 675 Madison Avenue, says the present demand for Bibles is the greatest in its 119 years of existence.

The National Round Table for Speech Improvement will have luncheon to-morrow afternoon in the McAlpin ballroom.

The office employees of the American Tobacco Company, 111 Fifth Avenue, will have their annual outing and field day on Saturday, June 14, at Mungers-on-the-Beach, New York, Staten Island. They will be conveyed to the place by auto buses, which will leave the home office, Eighteenth Street and Fifth Avenue, New York City, at noon.

Shower of Blazing Oil Scorches Crew of Ship
Error of Green Fireman Sends Captain and Two Seamen to a Hospital

A green hand in the engine room of the cargo steamship Charles Witherby, an oil burner, bound up the Hudson for Haverstraw, turned too much oil upon her fires yesterday evening as she was passing Alpine Dock, in Interstate Park.

An explosion followed, and a spout of liquid fire leaped up the steamship's funnel and fell like rain upon the crew. Three of them were burned so seriously that they were rowed ashore and taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Yonkers.

JOHN WANAMAKER

JOHN WANAMAKER
Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co.
Broadway at Ninth, New York.
Store Hours, 9 to 5.30.

Good morning!
This is June 6!
The weather today will be showery.

In the Orange Country the Lovely Lady wore orange blossoms in her hair and in her belt, though she was not a bride nor seeking to be one. As she walked about the hotel social halls she seemed to be swinging a chalice of a sweet and most refreshing perfume, almost persuading us that we were on the Orange River and under the blossoming orange groves.

It is one of the Fine Arts to dress simply, be natural, unassuming, and by gentle courtesies, sitting or standing, your words and actions shall be blossoms of your spirit, giving happiness to everybody around you. No need to dissemble. Good manners are the art of making people easy and at home with each other.

The good manners of this Store are not wholly the gift of nature, but the overcoming of our own faults, by a prudent silence sometimes and a real interest in everybody about us.

[Signed]
John Wanamaker
June 6, 1919.

Frequent bus service between 7th Ave. Subway at Christopher Street (Sheridan Square) and the Store.
8th street station on Broadway Subway and Astor Place station on Interborough lead right into the Store.

Summer Songs and Dances

By twenty young people in the Auditorium, today at 2.30 P. M., in a program arranged by Mrs. DORA ISAAC.

1,000 wash suits, samples, for boys

Our regular $3.50 to $6 grades, $2.95 each in the annual June Sale beginning to-day.

SAMPLES always mean VARIETY. Choose from Oliver Twist, middy, junior and short Russian styles—the newest. Made of FAST COLOR (guaranteed) Irish linen galatea, white rep and fine chambray.

Every suit is made in the true Wanamaker way. Sizes 2½ to 10.

Boys' Shop, Second floor, Old Building.

"I am most charmed with your stock of misses' dresses"

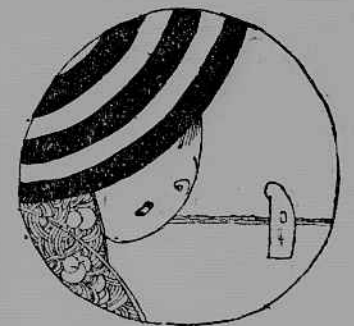

So writes a critic of Fashions. "They have the beauty, the daintiness, and all the charm that go to make up the ideal summer frock for misses. No stock of summer frocks in any store ever attracted me so much as yours did."

"The taffeta, crepe de chine and satin are summery, and simply ideal for general wear. When one runs to the city, what could be more attractive at a little luncheon on a warm day than this gown of blue taffeta with its six or eight raveled edge double ruchings that encircle the skirt, and the same trimming on a bodice that is lightened and freshened with its dainty lingerie neck finish?"

"To mention the frocks of this kind in this stock that deserve to be mentioned, is to mention every single one in the stock, for the whole collection is splendid."

"There was so much charm and even personality to these gowns that as I went over them, I felt as if I were looking at the wardrobes of the prettiest girls I knew."

The Young Women's Salons are on the Second floor, New Building.

Women's bathing suits

Knitted swimming suits—the two-in-one kind.

Designed for us in practically every color combination imaginable.

They are all absolutely correct, too, with the little under-trunks, also of knitted wool, are made to fit comfortably and allow for absolute freedom in swimming.

At $6 are these suits in dark colors banded with the gayest, brightest colors of the sports variety. Very effective and becoming.

At $7.50 are suits in dark colors with trimming of striped material in very gay combinations.

Poplin suits—Silk poplin—and very good-looking—made in smart little straight-up-and-down models, at $10.00.

Taffeta suits—Simple and untrimmed, save for tucks and a smart girdle, $13.50.

Satin suits—One model in black is piped with fine white lines, $22.50. A simple model in satin, $16.50.

Extra-size models—up to 50 bust measure. A well-designed simple suit of midnight blue mohair.

Second floor, Old Building.

Bathing suits for wee folks

Such cunning things, too. Sizes 1 to 6.

Little mercerized worsted jersey suits in all sorts of gay colors. The sort of shades that can be seen and of course add to the safety of baby's ocean dip; $1.95. Little mohair suits, 95c.

Third floor, Old Building.

Anatomik stories from real life

The girl who had never run and played like other children

She couldn't run. She couldn't even walk, as other girls walk. She only waddled along with an ungainly side motion. From early childhood she had worn iron braces that shackled her from hip to foot. Without these braces she was helpless. And now she was seven years old—doomed for life, everybody thought.

One day a new doctor saw her. This doctor had a brother who had once worked at Wanamaker's. He had been told of a certain shoe that had worked wonders in correcting foot trouble.

"Take her to Wanamaker's," he said. "Try that shoe."

The girl came. Her iron braces were removed. A pair of the shoes were put on her feet.

"Now walk," she was told.

"I can't," she replied, timidly.

"Try."

She tried, after some coaxing. She leaned against the wall and walked ten feet.

"Now walk back—alone. You can do it."

You can do it gave her confidence. She walked back the ten feet unaided, and as she reached her with the shoes she threw her arms around his neck and hugged him in sheer joy, although tears ran down her cheeks.

The shoe is the Anatomik

What the Anatomik did for this girl it has done for thousands of others, correcting troubles that come from the feet.

No mystery about it. Nothing but science. The Anatomik puts a firm foundation under the foot, supporting the center of gravity of the body, preventing the roll of the arch.

Whoever is having troubles of any kind with the feet will find the Anatomik a "friend in need."

Exclusive at Wanamaker's

Men's and Boys'—Burlington Arcade floor, New Building. Women's and Children's—First floor, Old Building.

500 cool frocks for women

$12.75, $16.50, $25

An occasion at the psychological moment!

At $12.75 Gingham dresses in a simple little model with the modish tie-around bodice. Also, frocks of plain colored voiles.

At $16.50 Dresses of dainty striped cotton tissue, new gingham, patterned voiles and plain colored voiles.

At $25 Frocks of fine cotton tissues trimmed with real Chinese hand-made fillet lace. Also, dresses of foulard-patterned voile; deep collar and cuffs of white organdie, hand-embroidered and edged with Valenciennes lace insertion.

Second floor, Old Building.

"Valerie" overblouse, $7.50

The overblouse to be smart must be simple and have good lines. That is why "Valerie" (illustrated) is already one of the leading models of the season.

$7.50 is a very little price for any kind of an overblouse. For one of Georgette crepe it is an exceedingly low price.

Yes, it is a slip-on model. Neckline and front opening are finished with a fine pleating of the crepe. This pleating is repeated on the cuffs. In white, beige or a dainty tone of pink.

Third floor, Old Building.

Imagine—

home-made ice cream made in a Vacuum freezer without any work at all.

Just put the cream and chocolate (or any of the excellent concoctions the various tested recipes call for) in one side and ice in another side. Leave it alone one-half an hour and presto—ice cream is made.

Vacuum freezer, $5. Holds two quarts. Found in the Seventh Gallery, New Building.

Be prepared for mosquitoes

Fortify yourself against his yearly visit with a mosquito canopy—a gorgeous affair all made and easily adjusted—one with a frame.

$4.25, small size. $5.95, large size. $4.50, for standard size.

Another kind which is adjusted from the head of the bed—$7 for small size; $7.25 for large size.

Fourth Gallery, New Building.

Men's fine bathing suits

Lucky New Yorkers, to be so near the cool ocean. And, by the same token, so near such good bathing suits as you will find in the Sport Shop.

Bathing suits of pure worsted—California and two-piece models, in navy, black, oxford, heather and stripe combinations.

$4.50, $5.50, $6.50. Bathing belts, 50c.

Burlington Arcade floor, New Building.

Cool wear for men

Palm Beach suits, tan and gray, $17.50. Mohair suits, $27.50. Flannel trousers, $10.

Office coats, $3.50 and upward.

NOTE—Be careful where you get your thin suit—there are so many kinds! You might get one at the wrong store, and then meet a man wearing a Wanamaker Suit—and you would realize at once what a mistake you had made.

Burlington Arcade floor, New Building.